Abstract

A method has been devised for the electrophoretic transfer of proteins from polyacrylamide gels to nitrocellulose sheets. The method results in quantitative transfer of proteins from gels containing urea. For sodium dodecyl sulfate gels, the original band pattern was obtained with no loss of resolution, but the transfer was not quantitative.

journal metrics can be rather confusing. With so many things to consider, it is near impossible to factor in everything ascertaining journal quality.

The screenshot shows the Mendeley Feed website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links like Feed, Library, Suggest, Groups, Datasets, Careers, and Funding. A search bar is located in the top right corner, containing the text "Papers People Groups" and a search button. An orange box highlights this search bar, and an orange arrow points from a text box on the left to it. The text box contains the text "Búsquedas (Por Título de Paper, Nombre de Persona o Grupo)". Below the search bar, there's a section for "Recently published articles" and "Article suggestions". On the right side, there's a section for "Discover researchers on Mendeley" featuring profiles of Pelayo Munhoz Olea and Christopher Erdmann. At the bottom, there's a footer with the Mendeley logo and the text "Got a question?".
